

Landscape Architect Historical

Ann Arbor or Detroit, Michigan, Washington DC, Baltimore Maryland, Richmond Virginia

Be a part of a great company that prioritizes helping places and people thrive today and tomorrow. Quinn Evans is always looking for teammates who have the commitment to make resilient and vibrant community places. Always looking to and investing in our shared future, we will be a woman-owned firm in April 2022.

We seek new ways to deliver on the purpose, meaning, and benefits of place through participatory and intentional design. In support of our mission to create places that give back, our practice is an original 2030 signatory, and has long been a leader in promoting carbon neutrality in the built environment. We need skilled and dedicated collaborators on our team to accomplish these goals.

We celebrate diverse perspectives, views, and contributions as part of the creative process and further our contributions to the building and design professions by creating pathways into the profession. Our collective professional growth and distinction benefits in our membership in the President's Circle of the National Organization for Minority Architects \(NOMA\) and as a signatory of the 1.5°C COP26 Communiqué.

The cultural landscape team collaborates across disciplines to create sustainable planning and design solutions that connect people to the heritage of urban and rural places. From rehabilitation and interpretation of historic sites to the preservation of places embraced by Indigenous traditions, we strive for enduring stewardship. Our award-winning portfolio includes cultural landscape reports, heritage studies, master plans, site design and construction, National Register and National Historical Landmark Nominations, compliance consultation, and collaborative decision-making on projects ranging from vast national parks to discreet city sites.

We are looking for an individual who is dedicated to cultural landscape conservation with skills and knowledge to lead and support planning and design projects, applying National Park Service (NPS) and The Secretary of the Interior's (SOI) standards for cultural landscapes. Project management skills and the ability to collaborate with teams as well as work independently is critical. The successful candidate is highly organized, detail-oriented, and possesses strong written, graphic, and verbal communication skills. The position requires an individual with initiative, flexibility, and facility for multi-tasking.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Research, documentation, analysis, planning, and design for a broad range of cultural landscape types and scales
- Interaction with client and regulatory personnel
- Coordination of project teams, schedules, and budgets
- Facilitate collaborative projects including multiple disciplines, stakeholders, and public
- Mentor junior staff

JOB REQUIREMENTS:

- Licensed Landscape Architect
- Professional experience in landscape preservation projects (minimum 6 years) required
- Previous project management experience in A/E industry required

- Mastery of Microsoft Office, Adobe Creative Suite (Photoshop, Illustrator, InDesign), ArcGIS, AutoCAD, Sketchup, PowerPoint, Excel
- Experience with Revit, Enscape, and Serif Affinity is a plus
- Highly organized and professional with the ability to prioritize and manage multiple tasks simultaneously
- Strong working knowledge of NPS guidelines and SOI standards for treatment of cultural landscapes is required
- Strong planning and design abilities
- Travel to a range of project and office locations, including remote locations, is required, travel expenses provided. Candidates should have the capacity and be willing to work outdoor in all seasons through various kinds of weather, in rural or urban environments, for field surveys and meetings.
